Inclusion

- “The art of including students with disabilities in regular school classes.” (Merriam-Webster)
- “...a philosophy of education that promotes the participation of students with disabilities in ways that are much the same as their non-disabled peers”
- “...valued members of the school community”
(Taymans, & Termini, 2010)
- “...planned and supported initiative that expands all students’ opportunities to learn and achieve.”
(McClesky, Rosenberg, & Westling, 2010)

Also In Our Schools...

- 9-year-old boy who habitually falls asleep in class
 - This child is frequently awakened in the night by the sounds of his mother groaning and pleading as his father strikes her repeatedly
- High schooler who doesn't complete required homework
 - At home are two parents, one who drinks too much, the other undergoing chemotherapy for cancer
- A middle schooler whose frustrations explode into angry displays of emotion
 - His fear: he and his older sibling may be “taken away” from home because of violent behavior. Where will they sleep? Will they be safe?

All Are Welcome (Scanlan, 2009)

- “...this is an effort to present a compelling case to bridge theory with practice. In the end, our successes and our failures are measured not through abstract theory, but rather in specific action in our daily work as educators. In terms of Catholic schools, the successes and failure come in our ability to match rhetoric with reality, and to sing the words “All are welcome” robustly, in a tune ringing true.”

Parable of the Lost Sheep

- Gospel of Matthew (18: 10-14)
 - “See that you do not despise one of these little ones...in the same way, it is not the will of the Father that one of these little ones perish.”
- Must ask...
 - Where are the children that have been left behind and what are we going to do?
